Dufry opens its new shop at Moscow Sheremetyevo

Dufry has opened a new shop at the Sheremetyevo international airport in Moscow. At present, Dufry operates shops in the two largest Moscow airports – Sheremetyevo and Domodedovo.

The new Dufry shop is located in Terminal C – a new state-of-the-art four-level terminal that will accommodate all international flights previously serviced by Sheremetyevo-1. Currently Sheremetyevo serves around 8.7 million international passengers per year.

The duty-free area in Terminal C is 3,345 square meters and the new shop occupies more than 1,200 square meters. It offers a wide range of products of more than 1,000 world-famous trade marks and brands, which include Chanel, Dior, Lancôme, Estée Lauder, Gucci, D&G, Kenzo, Prada, Armani, Givenchy, Gaultier, Issey Miyake, Escada, Dunhill, Davidoff, Boss, etc.

The General Director of the airport remarked: “It has been created a single duty free area in the terminal “C”. Dufry was selected as the only operator in an open tender. For the airport it is very important that Dufry not only provides the high level of the passengers’ service, but shows the best correlation with the international requirements to the aviation security.”

The first shop is already available for the travelers, offering from alcohol and tobacco products to accessories and watches of the medium price category. In July, Dufry plans to open the other parts of the duty free area, including mini boutiques of the most famous clothes and accessories manufacturers, as well as a large perfumes and cosmetics section. The new shop in Sheremetyevo will be serviced by a team of professionals comprising of 200 people aiming to provide high quality services and maintain customer satisfaction.

Julian Diaz, CEO of Dufry, commented: “We are pleased to expand our operations in Russia as it is one of the most dynamically developing markets. We are dedicated to our strategy of enhancing our concession portfolio and presence in markets with growth potential such as Russia as well as tourist destinations.”
